Did you know it is International Nurses' Day? It is celebrated around the world each year on 12th May, the anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth. This year is extra-special because it marks the 200th anniversary of Florence Nightingale's birth. Many of you may have learned about Florence Nightingale in school; just to remind you, here is a short story about her life: <https://youtu.be/Frow559jWSE?t=3>

This is a fab song for you to learn; 'Florence Nightingale'. You could practise marching along with the music first. <https://youtu.be/dNVV-vQz37c>

Did you know that Florence Nightingale told everyone to wash their hands frequently to stop the spread of infection? You can practise washing your hands and singing the chorus of this song as it is 20 seconds long!

Florence Nightingale worked hard to improve hospitals in her lifetime and saved many lives. You may have heard of the special Nightingale hospitals which have been built to support the NHS in the current crisis?

All around the UK, many children have been painting pictures of rainbows as a symbol of hope for the NHS and all the other key workers.

Why don't you draw your own picture and 'shine a light' in your window at 8pm tonight to remember the 'Lady with the Lamp'?

Here's a new song to learn and help remind you of the colours of the rainbow, 'Sing of a Rainbow' https://youtu.be/eoHh_3AOVgM

Last week we listened to some music played by a string orchestra; here is a famous piece of music you might recognise from 'The Wizard of Oz', it's played by a string quartet: <https://youtu.be/MZDapzAjp2Q>

Did you recognise the song?
 Can you name the instruments which were played? Which one didn't you see?...
 Can you draw them in order of smallest to biggest?
